SCHOOL HOLIDAY FUN AT WHITEMAN PARK

Grab the family, pack a picnic and head to Mr Marbelous' Good Old Fashioned Picnic Day at Whiteman Park these school holidays.

On Wednesday 22 April, we will be holding a picnic day jammed packed full of family friendly activities.

Whiteman Park's Mr Marbelous' will be entertaining the kids with his magnificent marble collection and plenty of old fashioned fun.

Whiteman Park manager Steve Lowe said Mr Marbelous' Good Old Fashioned Picnic Day was bringing back old fashioned picnic activities.

"The old fashioned picnic day gives the whole family a hands-on fun day in the beautiful surrounds of Whiteman Park, unlike many school holiday activities that don't allow kids to experience the great outdoors," Mr Lowe said.

"We are bringing back old favourites like marbles, sack races, egg and spoon races, and there are lots of prizes on offer for the day's winners."

"The picnic day is just one of the many fun activities that kids can participate in these school holidays, with Whiteman Park continuing to provide fun for the whole family."

A highlight of this school holiday program is the Great Railway Journeys Exhibition currently running at Revolutions, Whiteman Park. The exhibition shows the important role that railways have had in Australia's history and development and is a fun and educational day out for the family.

Kids can also play on the variety of permanent amusements at the park including a bouncy castle, junior carousel and mini electric bugs.

For those families wanting to get out and enjoy the open air, Whiteman Park has an extensive network of paths to travel on foot or by pedal power.

Mr Marbelous' Good Old Fashioned Picnic Day will be held on Wednesday 22 April in the Village of Whiteman Park from 10am to 2pm. Entry is free for adults and $2 for children over 3 years.
